Ray Hutton examines how Tata have not only returned the business to profit, but have also transformed the public image of these age-old British brands. At the time of acquisition, both brands (once the crown jewels of the British motor industry) had been tarnished by a rather sporadic reputation for excellence and dependability. Tata brought a new approach to the business, with fast decision-making and a solid, viable, long-term strategy. Factory efficiency was enhanced, and a major export
