John Schelhas and Max J. Pfeffer: Saving Forests ...

The book begins with an anecdote where one of the authors narrates how a few decades ago, while doing fieldwork in Costa Rica, it was necessary to be careful while conversing with the farmers and not show great interest in forest protection or in the national park as this was a seemingly delicate issue which had generated disapproval.

Saving Forests, Protecting People? : John Schelhas ...

Schelhas and Pfeffer show that globally-driven forest conservation efforts have had different results in different places, ranging from violent protest to the discovery of common ground among conservation programs and the various interests of local peoples. The authors examine the connections between local values, material needs, and environmental management regimes. Saving Forests, Protecting
